Our summary

The state education department is offering competitive grants from a set-aside of Education and Economic Development Act funds to help districts serve students in grades 3 through 12 who face academic challenges. Funded projects will use evidence-based strategies or models aimed at preparing those students to meet the state's graduate profile by the time they finish high school. 5 million dollars, divided among roughly 10 grants whose sizes depend on application quality and the total amount requested. Only South Carolina school districts may apply. A district can submit several applications, each covering up to three schools, and districts already receiving these funds may apply for new sites, though districts without current funding get priority. The project term runs from July 1, 2027 through June 30, 2028. Applicants should review the request for proposals...
