Our summary

The City of Providence is requesting proposals for a public safety data integration platform, structured as a five-year contract with five optional one-year renewals. The Information Technology department issued the request, and the Board of Contract and Supply will evaluate bids and make the award. Each submission must follow a prescribed package order, beginning with the bidder cover form, a non-discrimination certification, a public records certificate and a city vendor affidavit, followed by the minority and women owned business forms and the technical response. Pricing must be given in both words and figures, with annual costs broken out for multi-year terms. Participation forms for minority and women owned business enterprises are required with every bid, and a combined twenty percent goal applies. The technical specifications appear later in the document and were not included in the text reviewed here. Process questions go to the purchasing department by November 23, 2026, while specification questions go to the city's chief information officer. M. on November 30, 2026, where bids will be opened...
